The following background about the programme might be helpful to you: It is a one-year full-time or two-year part-time, multidisciplinary postgraduate degree. Basic knowledge in physiology, biochemistry, food science, biotechnology, chemistry, molecular biology is a necessary prerequisite for understanding the topics covered in this MSc programme. This programme is about 60 students each year and students are expected to participate in class discussion. The programme involves a considerable commitment of time, which consists of five 9-credit courses plus two 12-credit courses). Each 9-credit course is an intensive 5-day workshop offered over two weekends, preceded by preparatory study (for which carefully-selected distance-learning material will be provided) and followed by consolidation and assessment. Written work contributes an important part of the programme, including the project of approximately 10,000 words. (All written and verbal communication is in English).
